LEADING CHINESE

MERCHANT DEAD

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)
One of the most prominent Chinese merchants in Honolulu, Lee Ahlo, died at his home in this city at 3:45 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Ahlo was born at Chong Lok, Canton, China, on the 23d of April, 1841, and came to Hawaii with others in 1865. He was the youngest child of Lee Fung Sem, a fortune-teller, and his wife Chong Shee, and although his parents were not in the poorest circumstances, he received no education. He came to Honolulu as a laborer and for seven years was cook for Mr. Lewers, of the firm of Lewers & Cooke. He was married on June 22, 1872, and for one year thereafter he worked for Marshal Parke.

In 1873 he started a small grocery store at the corner of Mauna Kea and King streets, and in 1876 moved his business to the corner of Nuuanu street and Chaplain Lane, doing a rice plant and general merchandising business. He continued in the business at that place up to the time of the Chinese town fire, since which time he has not been actively engaged in merchandising. His health began to fail during 1904.

He had three sons by his marriage, two of whom died, and the third, Anthony, who was educated in England. Mr. Ahlo also leaves one grandson. The funeral services will be held at 2:30 this afternoon from the Catholic Cathedral, and the interment will be in the King street cemetery.

"SONNY" SAID TO

HAVE QUIT BAND

"Sonny" Cunha, young Colburn and three or four others of the singers of the Hawaiian Band, which today should be playing at Salt Lake City, Utah, are reported to have quit the band in Seattle or Spokane and are now playing an engagement as an independent quartet club in some northwest city.

GOVERNOR'S

SAFE CHOICE

MAUI, June 25.—The June term of the 2nd Circuit Court at Wailuku, Hon. A. N. Kepoikai presiding, still continues. On Thursday, after a day's effort, a jury was obtained to try Ahong vs. Haiku Sugar Co., damages for trespass, the trial of which will probably continue a day or two longer. After its conclusion the jurors will probably be excused for the term, and Judge Kepoikai will try some jury-waived cases. Except for the trial and conviction of Wm. Reed and I for an assault upon Manuel Enos the present term has been a most quiet one. Three yearly jury sessions instead of two as formerly seem to expedite court business and keep the calendar from being overcrowded.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Senator S. E. Kalamia will manage the next Republican campaign on Maui and Molokai. Mr. Kalamia is a good politician and is personally acquainted with nearly all the electors of Wailuku, Lahaina, Makawao, Hana and Molokai, and hence should conduct an effective and successful campaign. He has already made a tour of East Maui to Kaupo and back.

Next week the Maui Supervisors will hold their monthly meeting and among them will sit for the first time Henry Reuter of Nahiku, recently appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. H. Halaiani of Kihaloa.

Mr. Reuter is a quiet, unobtrusive man, lacking perhaps in aggressiveness, but possessed of a good character and staunch in his adherence to the Republican party, or what stood in its place, since the inception of the Provisional Government. Hon. W. P. Hala, the Hana lawyer and legislator, who received the endorsement of the Republican Executive Committee of Maui, is a man of much prominence and experience in public affairs. Some dissatisfaction has been expressed because of Governor Carter's refusal to appoint Hala as supervisor from Hana but the reason for his action is to be found probably in Section 16 of the Organic Act which reads as follows: "That no member of the Legislature shall, during the term for which he is elected, be appointed or elected to any office of the Territory of Hawaii."

Mr. Hala's term as legislator has not yet expired but the question at issue is whether or no the county supervisorship is an office of the Territory of Hawaii. To the mind unaccustomed to the law's technicalities it seems possible that in this case as well as geographically the Territory includes the county. The words "any office of the Territory of Hawaii" are rather vague as to meaning, and a decision by the Supreme Court in the premises would be acceptable. So the Governor's conservatism in the matter seems at least justifiable.

SPORTING NEWS.

The entries for the tennis tournament of AUG. 12th are now closed and the committee of the Puunene Athletic Association is busy making further arrangements. Each man this year will have a lady partner and as the men entered for the contest outnumber the ladies, "round robins" among the men players have been arranged for on the Paia and Puunene courts to eliminate a certain number of men, thus making the number of lady and men players equal. For instance in Makawao four of the eleven entered must drop out, so from this time on singles will be played on the Paia plantation courts until it is determined who are the best seven players. The same thing will take place at Puunene. The silver cups to be played for were won last year by Messrs. Bazata and Krumphaar.

Last Saturday afternoon the "Reds" easily vanquished the "Whites" at polo on the Paia grounds by the score of 8 goals to 1. The teams were made up as follows: "Reds"—F. E. Baldwin, H. A. Baldwin, W. O. Aiken and C. C. Krumphaar; "Whites"—D. T. Fleming, D. C. Lindsay, H. V. Bazata, J. A. Reid and Wm. Engle.

It is stated that Malina, the well-known Kauai player, is now employed at Puunene and will play polo with Puunene on the Fourth of July. If this is true, Puunene, with F. E. Baldwin, J. B. Thompson, Harold Rice and Malina, may have a good chance of winning the tournament, for Makawao will divide its best players into two teams.

NOTES.

On Thursday, the 22nd, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. G. White of Haiku.

By Saturday's steamer Mr. Minnie E. Pearley of San Francisco arrived on Maui, and is visiting her son, W. W. Westcott of Puunene.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cooke and four children of Honolulu are on Maui and will spend the summer at their residence, "Kulanani."

By the Claudine of the 23rd, the mother, two sisters and two brothers of J. A. Reid of Kailua arrived on Maui from San Francisco and will soon make their home at Grove ranch.

Miss M. J. Ziegler and J. Ziegler of Honolulu are visiting at Maunaloa Seminary, Paia.

Mrs. E. H. Paris of Honolulu is the guest of Mrs. H. A. Baldwin of Hamakua.

By the Kilaui of the 22nd, H. W. Baldwin, who has charge of the Union Oil Co.'s affairs at Kahului, departed for the Coast on a two months' vacation.

On Wednesday, T. Awana, the well-known Chinese merchant of Makawao, departed for a several months' visit to China. He was accompanied by his two little sons and a Chinese boy named Ah Ling Ape, who will remain permanently in the Celestial Empire with his grandmother.

Club gave their monthly dance at Piepel's Hotel, Paia. About 35 young people spent a most enjoyable evening dancing to the music of the Paia string band. The band which was to have taken place at the E. B. Carleys was postponed.

On Wednesday morning the closing day of Mrs. Anderson's private school took place in the little schoolhouse at Paia. In presence of relatives and friends of the little pupils, the children taking part in the exercises were Olive Lindsay, Dorothy Lindsay, Lois Murdoch, Virginia McConkey, Bertram Aiken and Walter Murdoch.

Wednesday evening there was a bathing party by moonlight at the Paia seashore. It was a most merry event. Refreshments were served on the lawn of the cottage at "Kaleimahu." Miss Fanny Engle was the promoter of the festivity. There was quite a number present, 90 invitations having been issued.

The steamer Nevada arrived in Kahului from Honolulu on Wednesday and will depart for San Francisco today. She had on board an automobile for C. B. Wells of Wailuku and brought J. P. Cooke's auto from Honolulu.

The ship Hawaiian Isles departed from Kahului on Saturday, the Claudine towing her out into the bay.

The ship Fort George came to Kahului from Kananapali on Thursday of last week and, having loaded more sugar, will depart tomorrow for Delaware Breakwater. Eight of her sailors were paid off and left the ship on Monday. Sea captains state that sailors nowadays care only to ship from port to port and do not like long voyages, and that the Hawaiian Islands is the worst place in the world for sailors to leave their vessels.

Weather: Few light showers, but very dry.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

For the Week Ending June 30, 1906.

Honolulu, T. H., July 2, 1906.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The mean temperature for the week was below that of the preceding one at all reporting stations on the Island of Hawaii, excepting at Pahala, Ooaka and Honokaa, where the excesses were slight. The deficiencies were more marked, and at the majority of stations exceeded 1.0 deg. On Maui the mean temperature at Kihel was the same as that of the preceding week; at Paia it was slightly higher, and lower at the remaining stations, the deficiencies being greatest in the northwestern district. Ewa and Waimanalo, Oahu, report slightly higher, and the remaining stations, slightly lower mean temperatures than during the preceding week. The mean temperature at stations in the east-central portions of Kauai was slightly lower than the preceding week; the same at Kolon, and higher at the remaining stations.

The majority of stations on the Islands of Hawaii, Maui and Oahu, report more rainfall than during the preceding week, and marked excesses occurred in the east-central and west-central districts of Hawaii, and the east-central portions of Maui. The deficiencies reported at stations on these islands were slight, and in no case amounted to more than .35 inch. Slightly less amounts of rainfall than during the preceding week were reported from eastern Kauai, and slightly greater amounts at the southwestern stations.

The first measurable amount of rainfall in five weeks occurred at Waiakae, Oahu and in four weeks at Wailuku, Maui. At the latter station there has been but .10 inch of rainfall in seven weeks.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal islands, and for the group:

	Temp.	Rainfall.
Hawaii.....	72.8 deg.	1.93 in.
Maui.....	76.3 deg.	1.71 in.
Oahu.....	78.0 deg.	0.35 in.
Kauai.....	76.9 deg.	0.29 in.

Entire group.....76.0 deg. 1.46 in.

At the local office of the United States Weather Bureau in Honolulu, generally partly cloudy weather obtained, with an average cloudiness of 6-10 per cent, and measurable amounts of rainfall on five dates with a total of .33 inch, 14 inch more than the normal for the week. The maximum temperature for the week was 82 deg., minimum 69 deg. and mean 76 deg., 1 deg. below the normal; mean relative humidity, 67 per cent, mean barometer 30.04 inches, and prevailing wind direction, northeast, with an average hourly velocity of 9.6 miles.
